

BREAST CANCER AND MAMMOGRAPHY SERVICES

WITH INTEL CONNECTED CARE

One of your best defenses against breast cancer is early detection. Breast cancer is the second most commonly diagnosed cancer among American women, but when found early, more treatment options are available and there's a better chance for survival. Although rare, male breast cancer does occur.

To learn more about risk factors, symptoms, screening and detection, and treatment options, please visit kp.org/breastcancer.

About your benefits

Kaiser Permanente offers mammography services at 12 sites, including the Westside Medical Center. Women can self-refer for a mammogram beginning at age 35. You can schedule a mammography screening by signing on at kp.org or calling 1-888-810-7499.
