

AUTISM SERVICES

WITH INTEL CONNECTED CARE

Helping a child achieve their potential can be one of the most challenging and rewarding experiences a parent can have. As an Intel Connected Care member, you have access to the Pediatric Development Clinic at Kaiser Permanente Interstate Medical Office East. At this clinic, you'll find a team that specializes in providing care and treatment for children with autism and other developmental disorders.

No referral needed

Intel Connected Care members can self-refer to certain specialties within Kaiser Permanente, including the Pediatric Development Clinic. While you can self-refer to this clinic, having an autism diagnosis from your provider may make the care experience easier.
